

Associate of Science in International Hotel Management

Program Mission

The Associate of Science in International Hotel Management prepares students with the knowledge, skills, and attitudes for a successful career in the hospitality industry.

Program Description:

The International Hotel Management associate degree prepares students in the hotel operational departments: Front office, Housekeeping, Food & Beverage, and Human Resources. This program focuses on customer service and communications skills necessary to be successful as a hospitality professional. Training students in managerial, supervisory, and organizational skills is also emphasized.

Program Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs):

Upon successful completion of the AS in International Hotel Management program, students will be able to:

1. Display various supervisory skills within the hospitality industry.
2. Exhibit applicable customer service and hotel operations skills based on situation.
3. Evaluate the importance of communications skills.
