

High School Equivalency Office

Your first step toward a better future.

For whatever reason, you didn't finish high school. Now, you need that high school diploma in order to get a job, take classes here at GCC or at another postsecondary institution, for your own personal satisfaction, or to set an example for your children about the importance of education. GCC is here to help. Our High School Equivalency Office assists individuals 16 years and older, who are not enrolled in a high school and who do not have a high school diploma, in obtaining a high school equivalency diploma by successfully passing either the GED® or the HiSET® high school equivalency test.

TO BE ELIGIBLE TO TAKE THE HIGH SCHOOL EQUIVALENCY TEST:

- Candidate must be at least 16 years of age and not currently enrolled in an accredited high school;
- Candidate between the age of 16-17 must provide an official withdrawal form;
- Candidate must not hold a standard high school diploma;
- Candidate must take the CASAS appraisal.

NOTE: Under no circumstances may a high school equivalency test be administered to a person who is under 16 years old.

Computer-based

The GED® Testing Service is a public-private partnership between the American Council on Education and Pearson-VUE. The computer-based GED® Test includes the Common Core State Standards to better prepare individuals for college and career. Individuals can quickly register and take a practice test online, take the GED® Test at GCC's PearsonVue test site, and be assured of increased test security and immediate scoring on most tests.
