

School of Technology & Student Services

The School of Technology & Student Services, TSS, has a unique combination of academic and career and technical education along with the student services area of the college. TSS houses math and science as well as business, computer science, and electronics. The Student Support Services office, Center for Student Involvement, Career Placement Office, Student Health Center, Enrollment Services, TRIO Programs, Center for Civic Engagement, and Learning Resource Center (Library) complete the student services component of the school. Instructional technology support for faculty is also provided through the Instructional Technology Center.

The Office of the Dean for Technology & Student Services supports the instructional, curricular, and student support functions of the institution.
